WeRateDogs

Did you ever thought of getting your dog rated? Yes. Then here we are. I can tell you about WeRateDogs and some analysis about WeRateDogs tweet data.

WeRateDogs is a Twitter account with over 7.6 million followers. It rates people's dogs with a humorous comment about the dog. All you have to do is send them a picture of your dog and they'll give it a rating. The ratings are given on a scale of 1 to 10 but the actual ratings can even exceed 10. Why? Because "They're good dogs". WeRateDogs received international media coverage after another Twitter user, Brant questioned there rating system in a tweet in Sep 2016. WeRateDogs shut down that criticism with a hilarious comment "They're good dogs, Brent". The reply was retweeted and liked by many and became the greatest meme of 2016.

So how the ratings have changed over the time? Which dog type(breed) is the most commonly predicted dog type? Or who are the top 10 High rated dog types? WeRateDogs has over 9600+ tweets, after analyzing 1900+ tweets I have come up with below insights.
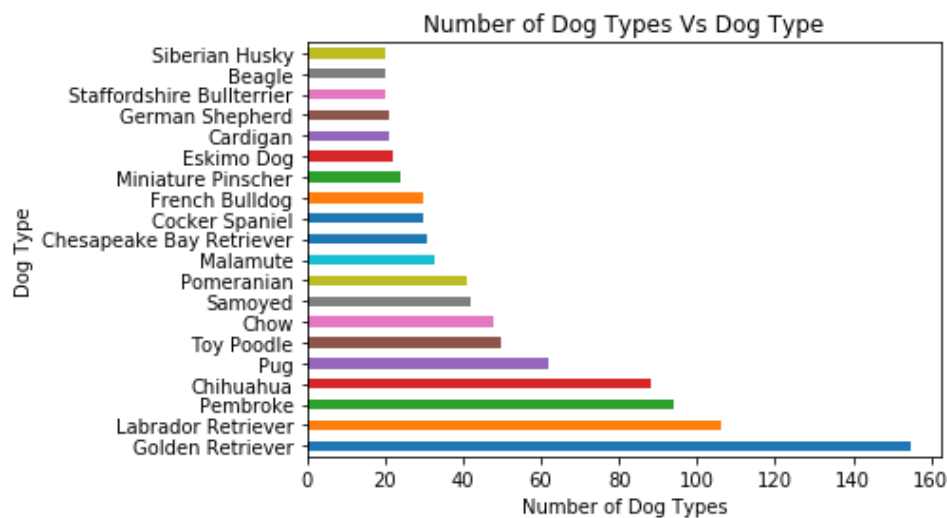

Rating trend over the years

Analysis shows after June 2016, there is a large increase in monthly average rating. Probably they want to keep everyone happy.
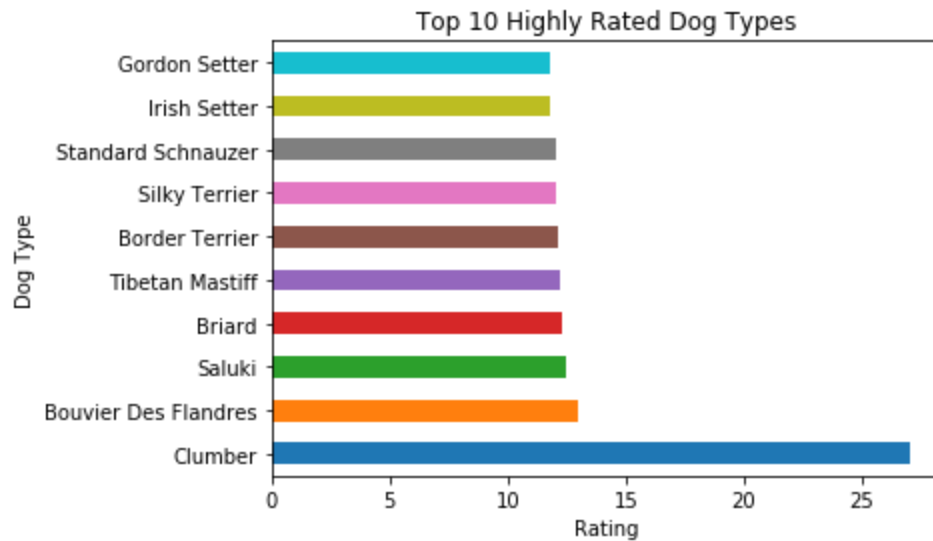

Most commonly rated dog type

Further analyses show, the most commonly rated dog is 'Golden Retriever', followed by 'Labrador Retriever' and 'Pembroke'.

'Labrador Retriever' and 'Golden Retriever' also holds first and third position in most popular dog breeds, according to a report by cbsnews.

Top 10 High rated dog types

Top 10 High rated dogs are Clumber, Bouvier Des Flandres, Saluki, Briard, Tibetan Mastiff, Border Terrier, Silky Terrier, Standard Schnauzer, Irish Setter and Gordon Setter.

Top 10 Highly Rated Dog Types

Rating and Favourite Count

Amazingly many tweets were favorite of over 100000 people. Although there is not a clear relationship between rating and favourite count, 13 rating has the highest favourite count.

Ratings Vs Favourite count